Last Week's Prompt NYMEX

IN THE NEWS

Mansfield Market Assessment

A lot is going on in the market today. The weather was mixed, as the short term is bullish and the next two weeks are looking bearish. The market is trading on the bearish changes over the weekend. Production is slightly higher today, and other fundamentals, such as LNG demand remain mostly unchanged. ...

Forecast Turns Cautious on Supply Glut

The weather forecasts are still bullish but the supply side is not cooperating. Buyers keep bidding passively on dips. They are not chasing. That is why this market gave back 4% on a Friday. The builds keep coming in below average and the market does not care. The Energy Information Administration reported 95 bcf for the week ending May 29. Expectations were 99 bcf.... Israel and Iran trade strikes over weekend

Israel and Iran traded fire early Monday in their first attacks since the U.S. struck a ceasefire with Tehran two months ago. Hours later, Iran's military said that it would stop offensive operations. The renewed hostilities threatened to drag the Middle East back into a full-scale war. The war, launched by the U.S. and Israel on Feb. 28 with strikes on Iran, has shaken the global economy, driven energy prices up around the world and made many basics, including food, more expensive. ...
